

It's about
the children.

Back in 1970, when High/Scope was launched, our founder, David Weikart, had one goal in mind: to give every child the opportunity to succeed in life. Along the way to achieving that goal, High/Scope revolutionized early childhood education. Today, our preschool curriculum is used by educators worldwide. Our research is influencing policymakers around the globe. And our publications, training and conferences are reaching an international audience.

At High/Scope, the bottom line isn't about profits. It's about people. Maybe that's why we continue to make such a big difference for so many children.

Still Leading the Way
in Early Childhood Education
